CHAMBER PROGRAMS

Partners in Education is a collective effort of the Milledgeville-Baldwin County Chamber of Commerce and our local schools that matches businesses and organizations with schools to provide extra funding, unique services and volunteer support. The vision behind the Partners in Education Program is to enrich the learning experience of Baldwin's children so that all develop a strong academic foundation, skills and core values that will benefit them in their community life and in a career.

Connecting the academic and business communities within the county allows us to provide students with even more opportunities for success. Schools must prepare today's students for their entry into a diverse, competitive work force. When businesses take part in the education of these young people, they help strengthen the work force of the future. The Partners In Education program is vital in helping the community and the school system work and grow together.

The key to PIE success is matching up the school's needs with the resources of a business or individual in a mutually beneficial manner. Businesses can partner with an individual school, multiple schools, or for some businesses, with the entire county-wide school system as a Partner-At-Large (or PAL).

Call the Chamber of Commerce today @ 478-453-9311 for more information on becoming a Partner.

Partnering is as easy as ABC:

A. The partnership needs to provide a benefit to the school and be mutually beneficial to the business through cause-related marketing, not advertising.

B. We define a partnership as at least three activities throughout the school year, which we feel is the minimum for a partner relationship.

C. The partnership activities must fulfill a need of a school, as determined by the principal and the school's Partners In Education Coordinator.

AMBASSADOR PROGRAM

Unveil the heartbeat of community connection through the Milledgeville-Baldwin County Chamber of Commerce Ambassadors. This distinguished team of volunteers serves as an essential liaison between the Chamber, its members, and the community. Ambassadors contribute significantly to member retention by extending a warm welcome to new members and encouraging active participation within the Chamber.

Functioning as a dynamic public relations arm, Ambassadors actively support the Chamber by championing and attending key events such as ribbon cuttings, Business After Hours, Eggs & Issues, and other special Chamber gatherings. Committed to fostering growth and promotion, the Ambassadors actively engage in community initiatives, imparting knowledge about the numerous benefits available to potential, new, and existing Chamber members.

In their role as frontline representatives, Ambassadors play a pivotal role in welcoming and engaging members at various networking events and fundraisers. Their dedication ensures that Chamber members maximize their membership benefits, fostering a strong sense of connection between members and the Chamber, ultimately strengthening the ties that bind our vibrant community.

REALITY CHECK

Reality Check delivers a dose of reality to local schools and organizations. Designed to offer a firsthand glimpse into the real world, the program exposes students to interactive stations where dedicated volunteers guide them in managing money, planning for the future, and navigating tough life decisions. We trust that students find immense value in this eye-opening encounter, gaining insights into real-world scenarios and the importance of financial responsibility. A tremendous THANK YOU to our incredible community volunteers whose time and expertise make this program possible.

CHAMBER PROGRAMS

Leadership Baldwin (LB) was created as an initiative of the Milledgeville-Baldwin County Chamber of Commerce in 1981 as a way to cultivate the talents and knowledge of civic-minded citizens who aspire to participate in shaping the future of their community. The goal of the program is to develop and foster participants' leadership skills, broaden their knowledge of our community and create networking opportunities with peers, alumni and community leaders. Since 1981, over 300 individuals completed this program.

A new component of this program is that every cohort will partner and collaborate with a local non-profit on a project that will be completed by the end of the 8-month program. The project serves several valuable purposes, such as leadership skills development, community engagement, collaboration, teamwork, problem-solving, time management and so much more that they can use in their professional and personal lives.

CHAMBER PROGRAMS

Youth Leadership Baldwin (YLB) gives local high school juniors in Milledgeville-Baldwin County the opportunity to grow as individuals, build relationships with peers and community leaders and broaden their knowledge of local government, business and civic activities.

During this 8-month program, students visit, learn and explore different sectors of the community from healthcare to economic development to infrastructure to public safety and more. YLB is designed to nurture the next generation of leaders, equipping them with the skills, values, and experiences needed to address the challenges and opportunities of the future in our local community and beyond. After graduating from the program, the Chamber is confident that these students will put their talents and leadership skills to work wherever they end up in life.

HISTORY

ANTEBELLUM CAPITAL

Milledgeville was founded in 1803 as the State of Georgia's new capital city. Its central location and river access made it an ideal choice for the seat of government. The arrival of wealthy and influential legislators, as well as a cotton boom, led to the establishment of grand homes, churches, and government buildings, such as the Old Statehouse, which now houses Georgia Military College, and the Governor's Mansion, which is currently operated by Georgia College & State University as a museum and event space. The Milledgeville Convention and Visitor's Bureau offers trolley tours of downtown, where visitors can see striking examples of many architectural styles, including Gothic Revival, Greek Revival, Victorian, and "Milledgeville Federal." Many of these historic buildings have found new life as faculty offices, community centers, and student housing for Georgia College & State University, which sits in the middle of downtown on the site of the former Georgia Penitentiary. Memory Hill Cemetery, established in 1810, contains tombstones and memorials that date back to the town's founding, and serves as the final resting place for such colorful characters as Dixie Haygood, a famous stage magician who was known as the "Little Georgia Magnet" and whose stagecraft earned the praise of Harry Houdini.

MILLEDGEVILLE-BALDWIN COUNTY CHAMBER

Founded in 1947, the Milledgeville-Baldwin County Chamber of Commerce has served as a driving force for building a strong economy and vibrant business community. With a Board of Directors from diverse backgrounds and industries, as well as dedicated and professional staff, the Chamber has helped sustain the local business community through many changes over the years.

We look forward to welcoming new businesses and helping our members succeed as Milledgeville-Baldwin County continues to grow and develop!

EDUCATION

Milledgeville-Baldwin County is home to three institutions of higher learning, Central Georgia Technical College, Georgia College & State University, and Georgia Military College, and today education is one of the city's primary industries. In addition to offering courses for enrolled students, each college offers a variety of lectures, events, and artistic performances that are open to the general public. In 2017, Georgia College & State University took stewardship of Andalusia Farm, where author Flannery O' Connor completed some of her most significant work. Now home to the Andalusia Interpretive Center, this site on the north side of town is a popular destination for O' Connor fans and writers seeking inspiration.

AFRICAN-AMERICAN HISTORY

Milledgeville was founded during the era of American slavery, and many of the Black families who came to the city prior to the Civil War were brought against their will. Milledgeville's history is filled with the stories of African-Americans who made invaluable contributions to the town's development despite discrimination and segregation. The Flagg Chapel Baptist Church, located next to Memory Hill Cemetery, is named for its founding deacon, Wilkes Flagg, who was born enslaved and worked nights as a blacksmith to earn the money to purchase the land on which the church sits. The Flagg Chapel also served as Milledgeville's first Black school, and Flagg's efforts, as well as those of prominent Black educator, Sallie Ellis Davis, provided educational opportunities to African-American children, a difficult achievement in the era of legalized segregation. The section of South Wayne Street north of Hancock Street was known as "The Strip" and housed a variety of Black-owned businesses. It is commemorated today by the Black Heritage Plaza, at the corner of South Wayne Street and Floyd L Griffin Jr. Street. Formerly McIntosh Street, this street was recently renamed to honor Floyd L. Griffin, Jr., an Army colonel, state senator, and Milledgeville's first Black Mayor.

HISTORY

CENTRAL STATE HOSPITAL

After the state capital was moved to Atlanta in 1868, the local economy in Milledgeville-Baldwin County shifted to focus on Central State Hospital, which began operation in the 1840s. Encompassing 1,750 acres and anchored by the stately Powell Building, the hospital once housed nearly 12,000 patients. In its heyday, it was the world's largest mental health institution, and may have influenced famous local author Flannery O'Connor, who addressed themes of mental disability in some of her most significant works. With the development of new pharmaceuticals and the decentralization of health care, Central State Hospital slowly shut down, and today many of its almost two hundred buildings sit vacant.

Located on the south side of town, they serve as a hauntingly beautiful reminder of Milledgeville-Baldwin County's history. In 2012, the Central State Local Redevelopment Authority was created to encourage private investment in the campus. The train depot that used to bring patients to campus is being renovated by the Georgia's Old Capital Heritage Center, a local history museum. Several businesses have purchased and restored buildings on campus, and the Chapel of All Faiths, located off of the central Pecan Grove, has been renovated and can be rented for weddings and other events.

ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT

WHY ARE INDUSTRIES CHOOSING MILLEDGEVILLE-BALDWIN COUNTY?

The Development Authority of the City of Milledgeville-Baldwin County is the primary economic development agency in Baldwin County and is charged with supporting existing industry and attracting new industry to our community.

Over the past few years, the Authority has been responsible for helping companies create hundreds of new jobs and add millions of dollars to the tax base. Recruitment efforts have brought new names into the community who have employed hundreds since deciding on basing their businesses in Milledgeville-Baldwin County. New construction of facilities have been a shining example of traditional economic development efforts. Nowhere is this more evident than the Milledgeville-Baldwin County Industrial Park on Ga. Hwy. 22. Three speculative properties have been built in the park in an attempt to recruit industry. All three facilities are occupied, yet there remains a vast shortage of existing buildings for economic development efforts in Georgia.

The repurposing of vacant facilities has also resulted in hundreds of new jobs. By facilitating the location of these industries in older facilities, the Authority has helped fill the crucial void in a shortage of existing space for companies who are looking to locate or expand in Georgia. Existing industries in Milledgeville-Baldwin County are also seeing record expansions and expect to see more new jobs in the coming months.

INDUSTRIAL PARKS

The Milledgeville-Baldwin County Industrial Park is home to multiple manufacturing, construction and medical facilities. The park is partially developed with roads, ample electricity, water, sewer and telecommunications infrastructure. Two sites are even pad-ready, ripe for development. The entire park is certified through the Georgia Department of Economic Development's Georgia Ready for Accelerated Development (GRAD) program. The GRAD program means that the Authority has performed most of the due diligence needed for construction as a tool for recruitment. Additionally, the Sibley-Smith Industrial Park continues to move towards development. The site is comprised of 1,586 contiguous acres and is one of Georgia's largest yet-to-be developed Industrial Parks. Planned development will eventually result in millions of square feet of industrial space and perhaps most importantly, the site is served by Norfolk Southern Rail, giving the option to move raw materials and finished goods via the nation's premiere railroad network. Engineering is underway and the Authority plans for development that will inevitably add thousands of jobs and millions of dollars to the local economic landscape.

WORKFORCE DEVELOPMENT

The Development Authority of the City of Milledgeville-Baldwin County is working to address a dire shortage of workers. The nation-wide shortage has resulted in vacant positions in almost every corner of the country. The labor shortage is being felt locally so efforts have been stepped up to help the labor pipeline reach more future employees. The Development Authority has partnered with workforce development organizations to build relationships and help strengthen the pool of potential employees. The Authority partners with Baldwin High School's College & Career Academy to connect local employers with students who complete programs that align with industry needs. In addition to the Academy, Central Georgia Technical College, Georgia College & State University, and Georgia Military College maintain active roles in working to develop candidates with skill sets ranging from entry-level to highly skilled manufacturing. Those efforts, coupled with the efforts of workforce organizations like Work Source Georgia, have resulted in a labor draw area in Central Georgia that has more than 250,000 workers.

LOGISTICS - PLANES, TRAINS AND AUTOMOBILES

We're home to Baldwin County Regional Airport, providing one of the most convenient hubs for corporate travel in and out of one of the most beautiful regional airports in the South. Norfolk Southern provides rail service for the Sibley-Smith Industrial Park. We are conveniently located half an hour from I-20 in Madison, as well as I-16 and I-75 in Macon. Whether traveling US 441 or the Fall Line Freeway you can head north, south, east or west to access the southeastern United States. US 441 provides easy access to I-16 and the Port of Savannah, the largest and fastest growing single container port in America.

ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT

EXISTING INDUSTRY

Perhaps the single most important sector of the local economic landscape is existing industry. Milledgeville-Baldwin County is home to a wide variety of industries. From aerospace to packaging materials to services, and almost everything in between, all are represented in our industrial community. In transitioning from a local economy heavily dependent on jobs stemming from the state of Georgia, Milledgeville-Baldwin County have benefited from that variety. Industries targeted for recruitment include aerospace, advanced manufacturing, automotive, logistics and raw materials handling. Building on the existing industry base, gains in all of these areas are complimented by the career opportunities provided by our robust medical and academic institutions. The care of others that was once foundational to the local economy and the skills acquired by employees have translated well to make sure that employees possess aptitude for specialized training to perform the work needed by industry.

RECRUITMENT

The Authority works closely with the Georgia Department of Economic Development, Georgia's utility providers, real estate brokers and professional site selection firms to promote Milledgeville-Baldwin County. Relationships with representatives from those partners make sure that this area gets the look it deserves. The Authority is currently working several recruitment projects as well as multiple expansions.

It's no wonder why companies are choosing to locate and expand in Milledgeville-Baldwin County. Development costs are low, we are home to a vibrant retail market and our community offers many of the advantages of a metro area while maintaining the personality of small-town life. # LAKE LIFE

In 1929, construction began on what we know today as Lake Sinclair. However, soon after construction began, the project was put on hold due to economic difficulties of the Great Depression and the beginning of the second World War. With a growing need for more energy to be produced construction was resumed and was completed in 1953. While Lake Sinclair was created with functionality in mind, no one can deny its charm and recreational benefits.

Locals and visitors enjoy a variety of activities such as boating, fishing, kayaking, jet-skiing, and much more. Lake Sinclair offers 400 miles of beautiful shoreline and 15,000 acres of open water for anyone looking to spend more time outdoors. A unique feature of Lake Sinclair is that the water levels are closely regulated by Georgia Power to generate electricity, which means the water level is always optimal for recreational activities. Come and see why locals and visitors are enamored with Lake Sinclair.

EDUCATION

THE BALDWIN COUNTY SCHOOL DISTRICT

The Milledgeville-Baldwin County community has what families need when it comes to K-12 education. Parents are presented with multiple viable options locally, and some families even utilize more than one option based on their kids' different needs. There is still convenience in that choice as all Milledgeville-Baldwin County schools are located just minutes from one another.

The Baldwin County School District (BCSD), which is the local public school system, houses around 5,000 students beginning as young as 6 weeks old at the Montessori Academy at the Early Learning Center, a partnership between BCSD and Georgia College & State University that began in the 2017-18 school year. These innovative partnerships, and programs like the Montessori Academy, earned BCSD Charter System of the Year in 2020. That award is given out annually by the Charter System Foundation of Georgia. Additionally, BCSD Superintendent, Dr. Noris Price was named Georgia Superintendent of the Year for 2022 and that same year went on to be selected as one of four finalists for the National Superintendent of the Year.

During Price's tenure, Baldwin County's graduation rate has increased over 30% and she's overseen other major efforts such as redistricting the elementary schools while placing them in K-2 and 3-5 pairs. BCSD's youngest students are enrolled at the Early Learning Center, home to the local Georgia pre-K and Head Start programs in addition to the paid Montessori option. From there, children advance upward into one of two primary K-2 schools, Lakeview Primary or Midway Hills Primary. Then to Lakeview Academy or Midway Hills Academy, both housing grades 3-5. Oak Hill Middle School is where students can really start to find their niche as it offers sports, fine arts, clubs and gifted classes. Those interests can continue to grow at Baldwin High School, which is also where kids can begin figuring out what life looks like after graduation through multiple career academy tracks. Georgia College Early College (GCEC) is another program offered through the local public school system. GCEC has grades 7-12 and is located on the GCSU campus within the John H. Lounsbury College of Education. There students have the opportunity to learn in a smaller setting than the high school and also earn college credit.

GEORGIA MILITARY COLLEGE PREPARATORY SCHOOL

Founded in 1879, public-independent Georgia Military College Preparatory School has a long, rich history of instilling its three rules to live by - "Duty, Honor, Country" - and the regimental accolade - "Character Above All" - into its cadets. GMC Prep in recent years has expanded enrollment down into the elementary grades. Located mainly on the historic Old Capitol square downtown, the school has been renovating existing buildings like Jenkins Hall and also adding new facilities to create space for the growth. The K-5 students are not considered cadets until they reach middle school, but they do have school uniforms. The military requirements such as wearing military style uniforms, attending morning formation and parades begin in the sixth grade and continue through high school. In the prep extracurricular realm, GMC is basically running a dynasty when it comes to fine arts activities like one-act play and literary with many state championships in both over the last decade. The school also offers multiple competitive sports teams.

CHARACTER ABOVE ALL

PARKS & RECREATION

Milledgeville-Baldwin County is a treasure trove of natural beauty and limitless opportunities for outdoor recreation. Visitors here can delight in serene riverside strolls, invigorating hikes, and exhilarating bike rides along our meticulously maintained nature trails.

Additionally, there are lots of options for swimming and various other activities in the great outdoors.

OCONEE RIVER GREENWAY

For families seeking a memorable outing, the Oconee River Greenway stands as an exceptional choice, conveniently located just minutes from the downtown area. This greenway offers an array of amenities, including multiple fishing stations, a boat ramp, a dog park, and a stage designed for hosting concerts and other community gatherings.

BARTRAM FOREST

Bartram Forest is a haven for those in search of both a stimulating and enlightening hiking experience. It presents nature lovers with three interconnected trails that wind through its landscapes, providing a glimpse of abundant wildlife in their natural habitat and thriving natural wetlands. The trails are welcoming to mountain biking enthusiasts and can provide a serene ride through the area.

CENTRAL CITY PARK

For families with children, Central City Park offers two playground areas for different ages, a covered picnic pavilion, volleyball courts, basketball courts, a baseball field, a skateboard park, a weight station, and a dog walk. The beautiful sloping hills and amenities make the park an ideal setting for leisure activities and outdoor events alike.

HARRISBURG PARK

In the summer months, the family can enjoy Harrisburg Park featuring a pavilion, walking trail, playground equipment, multi-purpose field, a room with a kitchen, and a splash pad. The splash pad enables children to engage in water play with spray nozzles emerging from the ground and shower attachments that release water from above. This is a great opportunity to introduce younger children to water before learning how to swim.

WALTER B. WILLIAMS PARK

If you're in Milledgeville-Baldwin County for a sports tournament, chances are you'll become well-acquainted with Walter B. Williams Park. With its walking and running tracks, softball and baseball fields, soccer fields, playground, 8 pickleball courts, 4 tennis courts, and a recently added disc golf course, this park offers a variety of amenities for all.
